COMPREHENSIVE CAREER LIBRARY INDEX

An alphabetical listing of titles
in Series C, D, E, F, and G, including titles categorized within General Topics.

Following the alphabetical listing, titles are listed according to Career Clusters.

SHOP FOR CAREER IDEAS IN VOCATIONAL BIOGRAPHIES

Browse through the stories. Snoop into careers you never heard of or even considered before. Try on different roles as you read. Could you manage so many people? face death every day? turn so many bolts? shop five days a week? stand dirty fingernails? fly in the air? work underground? be constantly in the spotlight with no privacy?

What sounds right—or wrong—for you?

Use this index to find stories that sound interesting to you. Then, find them and read for free.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX IF VOCATIONAL BIOGRAPHIES IS SPIRAL BOUND

1. Stories are listed alphabetically by main title. Each story title is followed by its series, volume, and number. For example, in the story with the main title
Transportation Planning Director (G-7 #13)
“G” is the series’ name;
“7” is the number of the book in the G series;
“13” is the number of that story in the G-7 book.
2. Stories also are listed alphabetically by other words within their titles. Look in this index for words that interest you, even if you do not know an exact vocation title to look for. For example, you will find the Transportation Planning Director also listed as a Director, Transportation Planning (G-7 #13).
3. Stories also are listed under one or more of 54 general topics included within the alphabetical listing. For example, if working for the government interests you, look up “GOVERNMENT” in the alphabetical listing. All Vocational Biographies about persons working for a local, state, or federal unit of government published during the last five years are listed there. General topics are printed in boldface type within the alphabetical listing of titles. Titles within a general topic are marked by a vertical line beside them, like this:

GOVERNMENT

Transportation Planner (E-6 #6)
Transportation Planning Director (G-7 #13)
Union Grievance Handler (C-6 #21)

Most story titles are listed under more than one general topic. For example, the Transportation Planning Director is also listed under the general topics ENVIRONMENT, FINANCE, and RESEARCH.

4. Stories are listed alphabetically under Career Clusters in the second part of this index, beginning on page 53. In these clusters, established by the U.S. Office of Education, stories about occupations related to each other are grouped together. Stories may be listed here under more than one cluster. For example, the Transportation Planning Director is listed in the ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES CAREERS cluster, the PUBLIC SERVICE CAREERS cluster, and the TRANSPORTATION CAREERS cluster.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX IF VOCATIONAL BIOGRAPHIES IS FILED VERTICALLY

VOLUME
D-7
THE GOOD LIFE

A work-centered life is becoming an obsolete concept. Increasing numbers of workers are striving for lives rich with a variety of experiences. Persons profiled in this volume illustrate over two dozen options for careers that allow them the lifestyle they want.

VOLUME
C-7
COMPUTERS: REDEFINING WORK

At first, computers streamlined business and industry operations. But now they have made the workplace much more complex. This volume examines the complexity in the careers of persons whose jobs, for now, depend on computers. They acknowledge, however, that these jobs may be gone or reinvented at the click of a switch.
